NEW MODULE IN LHC WEBSITE FOR THE ADR-IMPLEMENTATION & LIAISON CENTRE

NEW MODULE IN LHC WEBSITE FOR THE ADR-IMPLEMENTATION & LIAISON CENTRE

BACKGROUND & OBJECTIVE

- The former ADR Centre was replaced by the newly established ADR-Implementation & Liaison Centre to enhance coordination.
- Dedicated webpages were developed for the Centre within the District Judiciary section of the LHC website.
- The webpages include clearly defined sections such as Functions, Hon'ble ADR Committee, and ADR Laws.
- User-friendly and visually appealing webpages were designed to ensure ease of access for all stakeholders.
- Close coordination with relevant stakeholders was maintained to compile and verify accurate information.

IMPACT, OUTCOME AND BENEFITS

- Significantly reinforced the ADR framework through a dedicated and structured digital presence.
- Enhanced visibility, coherence, and institutional credibility of ADR mechanisms.
- The ADR-Implementation & Liaison Centre is now accessible to the public through a structured digital platform.
- Information on ADR services is regularly updated and easily retrievable by all users.
- Increased public awareness and confidence in ADR as an efficient dispute resolution mechanism.
- Promoted judicial efficiency by encouraging alternative means of dispute resolution.
- Reduced the burden on courts by directing eligible disputes toward ADR channels.
