M P JAIN INDIAN CONSTITUTIONAL LAW

BY JUSTICE JASTI

CHELAMESWAR AND JUSTICE

DAMA SESHADRI NAIDU,

LEXISNEXIS, 2019.

This book is a fascinating account of the debates on some of the key Constitutional issues in India that engaged or failed to engage the attention of the popular media in the recent years. Together, these issues have a bearing on the past, present and future of India's democratic experiment, which they can ignore only to their peril. Conveniently divided into four parts, namely, powers and limitations of Parliament and the Executive, federal tensions, the scope and limits of judicial activism, and the role of the Election Commission in ensuring free and fair elections, the book offers fresh perspectives on some of the recent Constitutional questions that confronted India's institutions, and the Constitutional functionaries.

UNJUST ENRICHMENT

BY JAMES EDELMAN AND ELIS BANT,

HART PUBLISHING, 2016.

This book concerns the principles of the law of unjust enrichment in Australia, New Zealand, England and Canada. Major decisions of the highest courts of these jurisdictions in the last decade provide a fertile basis for examining the underlying principles and foundations of this subject. The book uses the leading cases, particularly in England and Australia, to distil and explain the fundamental principles of this branch of private law.

MULLA'S THE CODE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE (IN 03 Vols.) BY SIR DINSHAW FARDUNJI MULLA, LEXISNEXIS, 2017.

The commentary on Code of Civil Procedure by Sir Dinshaw Fardunji Mulla is unique in its precision, carries easy readability, critical analysis and has been throughout appreciated for its authenticity. Keeping with the high traditions set by illustrious predecessors, the authors have tried that this edition contains almost every relevant pronouncement on the instant subject by the Hon'ble Courts since the preceding revision which was printed and published in 2013. In addition suggestions and critically analyses of few judicial pronouncements have been given so that the reader may develop a thought process as to how to simplify the provision and apply it to facts of a case.

BASU'S COMMENTARY ON CODE OF CRIMINAL PROCEDURE (IN 02 Vols.) EDITED BY CHANDRASEKHAR K, WHITES & CO., 2019.

The book in two (2) volumes is revised edition of the much appreciated and accepted work of a renowned author. It has the soul of original work along with the milestones of case law, foreign and the dynamics of the statute. In the recent past, work on criminal procedure has been in great demand, due to complex issues and importance of the matter, the present work ably suits the nature of requirement in terms of research and practical usage. All possible efforts have been made to include important judicial decisions relevant to the Act, at the same time care has been taken to ensure the general lucidity and clarity of exposition is not impaired by a profusion of case-law that does not decide any law point.

BUREAUCRATIC DECISION MAKING AMID MULTIPLE ACCOUNTABILITY: A NIPP POLICY PAPER BY SHAHID RAHIM SHEIKH AND SAIF ULLAH KHALID, 2019.

This publication has been provided to the Judges Library by Hon'ble Mr. Justice Ali Baqar Najafi as gratis.

A popular thesis has emerged: indecision in the Pakistani bureaucracy may be a consequence of a phenomenon of 'multiple accountability' wherein officers are hesitant to take decisions. This study uses a comprehensive survey instrument among the public/civil servants to ascertain perceptions of various hierarchical levels of decision-makers in Pakistan. It also provides evidence for the notion that by its own estimation, the Pakistani bureaucracy is beset with indecision. In addition, the study shows that NAB, media trials, public interest litigation and pressures generated by the political economy considerations are contributing, in moderate to intense degree, to bureaucratic indecision.

STROUD'S JUDICIAL DICTIONARY OF WORDS AND PHRASES (IN 03 Vols.) DANIEL GREENBERG SWEET & MAXWELL, 2017.
